Licensed Marriage & Family Therapist

Besides receiving her Master's Degree in Counseling Psychology from the Institute of Imaginal Studies in 2003, her main teachers have been channeled beings who had extraordinary insight into how reality is created from the unconscious mind. By giving people evolved information on reality creation, she helps them make that all important connection with their higher selves so that they can heal whatever is troubling them, including mental, emotional, physical, relationship or financial pain. Besides doing traditional one on one counseling, Susan also channels your guides to give you extraordinary insight into your life's purpose. Her goal is to always help you move forward on your spiritual journey in a step by step process that is logical and clear. It is impossible to fully heal until one understands how they have created their present struggles, for in that knowledge is the whole way out. The goal of each session is to give you that knowledge so that you might make fundamental changes in the way you view and live your life. Susan is also a gifted hypnotherapist who is capable of guiding you through a variety of healing sessions. For those who are ready for it, she may guide them into doing inner child rescue work or past life regression. She is also capable of guiding you through trance work that will help you heal addictions to substances that you are ready to be free of. Her goal is to help you heal past trauma so that you can erase its effects in your present life. After healing trauma comes forgiveness of self and others. In this way, you free yourself from the past so that you can create a whole new future. Her work is always magical and filled with the clarity that comes from divine love and understanding. Because she welcomes all true seekers who truly want to heal, she charges a sliding scale that is guaranteed to fit your budget. No one is turned away. Classes and group work are also available upon request.
